Summary

As a teacher, I consider my role primarily as a facilitator and as a mentor. As a facilitator I see myself encouraging my wards through classroom experiences and opportunities to take the onus of learning on themselves and creating their own knowledge base thus creating life-long learners. As a mentor, I strive to model leadership, empathy, caring, balance and respect for others. It has been my endeavor, as a teacher to give my students realistic achievable targets and to make their physics learning lively, interesting and practical.
